WARD: All

DIRECTOR: Mr David Djulbic

PURPOSE

To introduce for discussion a review of the Terms of Reference of the Conservation Advisory Committee.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Conservation Advisory Committee advises Council on issues relating to the conservation of the City's natural biodiversity. The recent Council elections and the resignation of a number of members of the CAC is seen by Council officers as an opportunity for the CAC and Council to review the current Terms of Reference of the Committee (Attachment 1 refers) where it relates to meeting times and meeting cycles.

It is recommended that the Conservation Advisory Committee REVIEWS Clause 4.3 of the Terms of Reference of the Conservation Advisory Committee, in relation to meeting times and meeting cycles.

BACKGROUND

The Conservation Advisory Committee has been advising Council on issues relating to the conservation of the City's natural biodiversity for eight years. The Committee meets on a monthly basis in the City's civic building.

Committee membership currently consists of five elected members and seven community representatives.

Community membership comprises of people with specialist knowledge of the natural environment, and a representative from each community group concerned with natural area protection and management within the City of Joondalup.

The objectives of the Committee, as found in the Terms of Reference, are as follows:

- To make recommendations to Council for the conservation of the City of Joondalup's natural biodiversity.
- To provide strategic input and when requested, technical advice on issues relating to the conservation and management of the City's natural biodiversity.
- To promote partnerships between Council and the community to protect the City of Joondalup's natural biodiversity as contained within its various natural areas (bushland, wetlands and coastal environment).

Prior to Christmas 2005, Committee membership stood at eleven. Since then there have been four resignations and one more is imminent. Five elected members have recently become Committee members.

DETAILS

Issues and options considered:

It is considered that a Council review of the Conservation Advisory Committee's Terms of Reference would examine sitting times of the CAC, as well as the meeting cycle.

In the last two years there has been a shift by the CAC Committee from an operational focus to a more strategic one. The Committee has examined and advised Council on a range of topics, including coastal management plans, the supply of natural area management services by the private sector and has recently assisted officers in the compilation of the City's Natural Area Friends Group Manual.

The recent emphasis by the Committee on more strategic issues, and the research and the compilation of information associated with this change of emphasis, has resulted in a much heavier workload for the officers who provide support to the Committee and also for Committee members who undertake research on issues in their own personal time.

It has also been suggested by some Committee members that the current monthly meeting cycle should be changed to bi-monthly meetings.

It should be noted that most CAC members sit on a number of committees that place demands on their personal time and historically the Committee has received resignations on this factor alone.

Link to Strategic Plan:

Key Focus Area

Caring for the environment

Outcomes

The City of Joondalup is environmentally responsible in its activities.

Objectives

To plan and manage our natural resources to ensure sustainability.

Strategies

- 2.1.1 Maintain and protect natural assets to retain biodiversity.
- 2.1.2 Further develop environmentally effective and energy-efficient programmes.
- 2.1.3 Develop a coordinated environmental framework, including community education.

Consultation:

The Conservation Advisory Committee provides a forum for community consultation and engagement on natural areas.

COMMENT

The Conservation Advisory Committee is the appropriate forum to discuss the Committee's own Terms of Reference prior to making recommendations to Council. The Conservation Advisory Committee Terms of Reference state that:

4.3 Meetings - meetings shall be arranged at regular intervals (monthly), as determined by the Advisory Committee, at an appropriate time and place.

The tabled report recommended that the Conservation Advisory Committee meet bi-monthly, meetings would then be more convenient to members and in addition allow time to gather information regarding reports when requested. Members of the committee thought this would be suitable suggesting that the meeting continue to convene as usual for the month of July then commence with the bi-monthly schedule. It was also suggested that the CAC meetings commence at 6pm and not 5.30pm as members traveling from Perth sometimes found it difficult to get to the meetings on time.

MOVED Cr S Hart, SECONDED Mrs C Wood that the Conservation Advisory Committee CONVENES the July 2006 meeting as normal, then commences with the bi-monthly schedule and that all future meetings would commence at 6.00pm.

PURPOSE

To provide information on the Conservation Advisory Committee's Strategic Plan 2005-2008 for noting.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Conservation Advisory Committee advises Council on issues relating to the conservation of the City's natural biodiversity. The recent Council elections, which have seen five elected members become members of the CAC, and the possibility of new community members being nominated for membership, is seen as an opportune time to provide members with information regarding the Conservation Advisory Committee's Strategic Plan 2005-2008 that was adopted by Council in 2005 (Attachment 2).

It is recommended that the Conservation Advisory Committee, at its meeting on 28 June 2006, NOTES Item 2, the Conservation Advisory Committees Strategic Plan 2005-2008.

BACKGROUND

The Conservation Advisory Committee has been advising Council on issues relating to the conservation of the City's natural biodiversity for eight years. The Committee meets on a monthly basis in the City's Civic Building.

Committee membership currently consists of five elected members and seven community representatives.

Community membership comprises of people with specialist knowledge of the natural environment, and a representative from each community group concerned with natural area protection and management within the City of Joondalup.

The CAC Strategic Plan was produced after a number of workshops were held in 2004-05. Attendees at the workshops included CAC Members, Commissioners and senior staff from a number of business units.

The Plan was designed to steer the Conservation Advisory Committees focus in a more strategic direction and examined a range of broad conservation related issues including, community participation, community environmental education and natural area management.

DETAILS

Issues and options considered:

The Conservation Advisory Committee is currently in the process of undergoing a major change to its membership. Five elected members are joining the Committee and four community members have resigned from the Committee since late 2005. A new chair will also need to be elected at 28 June 2006 meeting.

It is considered timely that prior to the first meeting with the five newly elected members that they be provided with information relating to the CAC medium to long- term future direction. This is contained within the Conservation Advisory Committee's Strategic plan 2005-2008 (Attachment 2 refers)
