Research & Innovation

The Office of Research and Innovation provides strategic and operational support to the University's research program and plays a crucial role in facilitating research outcomes. It provides a range of services to support and inspire ECU's research community, including:

- development and submission of applications for external research funding;
- commercialisation and intellectual property;
- research community communications;
- professional skills training;
- building a track record;
- facilitating collaborations;
- providing research ethics advice ;
- industry liaison and promotion; and
- facilitating internal ECU funding schemes.

Conclusion

ECU is serious about engaging with local business.

We would like you to rate us as a 5-star university to work with.

We can only achieve that if we work with you.

The conversation has started. I hope it will grow.
