Coder Dojo

I am going to the Library in the afternoon to a club called Coder Dojo. I can learn how to code, develop websites, apps, programs, games and much more.

This is the Joondalup Library.

This is the Whitford Library.

There will be other children, parents, and library staff. I can bring my own laptop.

At Coder Dojo I will learn computer skills, learn how to code, use programs like HTML, Scratch, and Python programming and have fun!

Adults will be there to show me what to do and help me if I am stuck.

I can work with others or on my own.

If I need help, I can ask an adult for help.

It might get noisy in the Library. If I need a break, I can go to a quiet space.

Going to Codo Dojo at the Library can be fun!

Advancing the personal development, equality of opportunity and community participation of people with Autism.